COURSE DESCRIPTION

An introduction to the methods and topics of moral reflection and action in their biblical, historical, and theological context. The course focuses on new life in Christ as embodied in the church for the world. (from catalog)

Additional Description (added by Lama)

Throughout the course, we will explore and critically examine these questions: What does it mean when we confess, preach, and pray “New life in Christ” in an ecclesial context? What does the “new life in Christ” look like individually and collectively? How do our biblical, theological, historical, socio-economic, and cultural understanding and practice inform and shape the way we engage moral reflection and action? What sources of norms and authorities do we primarily bring into our moral reflection and action? Or what sources have been left out? Grounded in the “New Life in Christ” as theo-ethical framework, we will engage scholarly work from diverse traditions and denominations.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

By the end of the course, students will be able to:

- Describe issues, topics, methods, and approaches in Christian ethics
- Cultivate skills and habits of close reading of a text.
- Develop their ability to discern a theo-ethical argument
- Develop and cultivate practices of moral discernment in their ministerial and pastoral life
- Gain critical thinking skills through individual and collaborative work.

This course contributes toward the following MDiv & MATS learning outcomes:

- Interpret the Christian historical and theological tradition for appropriation in the life and mission of the church.
- Embody a ministerial identity committed to caring for the spiritual formation of the self, individuals, and communities
- Demonstrate vision and growing capacity to excel in leadership for God's mission
- Communicate the whole gospel of Jesus Christ in contextually appropriate and effective ways
- Engage diversity and exhibit growth towards intercultural competence for ministry reflective of God's global redemptive work

REQUIRED TEXTS

1. Miguel De La Torre, Doing Christian Ethics from the Margins (Orbis, 2014)
2. Kelly Brown Douglas, Stand Your Ground: Black Bodies and the Justice of God (Orbis, 2015)

One of the following texts, based on your group assignment:

- Toni Morrison, The Origin of Others (2017)
- Robin Wall Kimmerer, Braiding Sweetgrass: Indigenous Wisdom, Scientific Knowledge, and the Teaching of Plants (2015)
- Cathy Park Hong, Minor Feelings: An Asian American Reckoning (2020)

- Scott B. Rae, Moral Choices: An Introduction to Ethics, 4th edition (Zondervan, 2018)

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

1. Attendance and Active Participation (20%)

Active participation and punctual attendance for the class session are expected. Active participation includes the completion of required readings and assignments prior to the class meeting. Reading closely and reading together are two of the practices in the seminar course.

Attendance: Only two class sessions can be missed without penalty to your final grade; five absences will result in failure.

Hyflex Course Modality

In hyflex classrooms, our learning community combines in-person students and students joining the classroom via Teams. Toward cultivating a respectful, accessible environment for mutual learning, we observe the following:

Students attending virtually: Think of your physical space as an extension of the classroom. Ensure that you are in a private, stable location that is free of visual and audio distractions. It's important that we all respect the integrity of classroom discussion. (For this same reason, please do not record class sessions or take screenshots without permission.) Please keep your camera and microphone on through the class session. Consider purchasing a microphone/headset to improve the quality of your sound. (Attendance in class assumes that you are present in this way.)

Students attending in person: Remember that the class and classroom extend to colleagues attending virtually; it's important to remain visible as well. Please engage the full learning community. Registering for the campus section entails a commitment to joining the class in person. If you are too sick to come in person, or if you have an unavoidable scheduling conflict, please use one of your excused absences for the semester rather than joining by Teams.

2. Weekly Reading Reflection Posts & Responses (20 %)

- Each week, you will write a response to questions posted on the Canvas discussion forum. Your prompt response should be 250-300 words (1 page double spaced) in length posted 24 hours before class. The goal of this assignment is to show your thorough engagement with the text, your reflection on and questions of the text.
- In addition to your prompt response, you will respond to two of your classmates' posts.

Note: You are allowed to miss a post for the week of your group project presentation.

3. Collaborative Group Project Presentation & Discussion (20 %)

Each group will select ONE book from below, written by writers and thinkers from diverse backgrounds and an indigenous biologist engaging the contemporary issues of education, healthcare, and caring for the earth, (im)migration, and racial capitalism in American democracy. This assignment includes two parts: (1) You will prepare to lead the class by presenting your engagement with the selected text, and (2) you and facilitate class discussion. Your group presentation paper should include both the author's argument and your critical reflection on the readings, articulating in ways that the author's work affirms and challenges your understanding and practice of "new life in Christ?"

- Toni Morrison, The Origin of Others (2017)
- Robin Wall Kimmerer, Braiding Sweetgrass: Indigenous Wisdom, Scientific Knowledge, and the Teaching of Plants (2015)
- Cathy Park Hong, Minor Feelings: An Asian American Reckoning (2020)

2. Christian Ethics Sermon (20 %)

Positioning yourself as a Christian ethicist, you will write a sermon (5-7 pages & double-spaced) specifically on what it means to embody “new life in Christ” for the world, illustrating your moral analysis including your reasoning, reflection and implications. You could consider this a case study, paying attention to a particular moral issue. Your sermon should be a clear and cohesive written work by responding to these suggested questions:

- a. Who is your imagined audience?
- b. What are the facts? What is going on?
- c. What specific moral and ethical issue that you wrestle with in this piece? What need is it meant to address? What is morally at stake? What is of moral significance to consider?
- d. What authorities (sources & norms) do you draw on?
- e. What are the ends and goods you want to accomplish or fulfill?

5. Final Integrative Project (20%)

In this assignment, you will answer this question, “How My Christian Faith and Ministerial Practice Has Been Shaped by the Study of Christian Ethics,” by engaging the course materials. The goal of the assignment is to critically and thoughtfully reflect on weekly readings, class discussions, and presentations. Detailed guidelines will be provided. Remember to write citations or references that are not your own.

- Essay option: 10-12 pages (double-spaced)
- Non-essay option: PowerPoint Presentation, Podcast, Video, Case Study, Glossary

GRADING

- Participation 20%
- Weekly Reading Reflection 20%
- Collaborative Group Project 20%
- Christian Ethics Sermon 20%
- Final Integrative Project 20%

*Grade percentages operate as follows: A+ (97-100), A (93-96.9), A- (90-92.9), B+ (87-89.9), B (83-86.9), B- (80-82.9), and so on.

INCOMPLETE GRADES

If, due to extenuating circumstances (specifically, pregnancy, illness, personal and family issues, military assignment, etc.), a student anticipates they will be unable to complete course work within the allotted time, that student may request a grade of incomplete from the course instructor before the last week of class clearly stating the reason(s) for this request. Overscheduling and/or lack of self-discipline are not considered extenuating circumstances. If the request is timely and meets the criteria, student and instructor will submit the incomplete grade form and the grade for that class will be listed as “I” until the last day of the following semester. If coursework is not submitted by the last day of the following semester the listing of “I” will automatically be changed to “F.” For the full policy, see page 15 of the Seminary Academic Catalog.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

In keeping with our Christian heritage and commitment, North Park University is committed to the highest possible ethical and moral standards. Just as we will constantly strive to live up to these high standards, we expect our students to do the same. To that end, cheating of any sort will not be tolerated. Students who are discovered cheating will receive a failing grade on the assignment and are subject to discipline up to and including failure of a course and expulsion. Our definition of cheating includes but is not limited to:

- 1) Plagiarism – the use of another’s work as one’s own without giving credit to the individual. This includes using materials from the internet.
- 2) Use of ChatGPT or other AI composition software to impersonate individual assignments.
- 3) Copying another’s answers on a quiz or exam.
- 4) Deliberately allowing another to copy one’s answers or work.
- 5) Signing an attendance roster for another who is not present.

For additional information, see the Seminary Academic Catalog, p. 25–26. IX.

ACCOMMODATIONS

Your experience in this class is important to me. North Park is committed to creating inclusive and accessible learning environments consistent with federal and state law. If you have already established your accommodations, please share your accommodation letter with me so we can discuss how your accommodations will be implemented in this course.

If you have not yet established services and have a temporary health condition or permanent disability that requires accommodations, please email the Disability Access Specialist or contact by phone (773-244-5737). Student Engagement facilitates the interactive process that establishes reasonable accommodations.

X. TITLE IX

Students who believe they may have experienced sexual misconduct, sexual harassment, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking should contact the Title IX Coordinator (773) 244-5664 or TitleIX@northpark.edu to learn more about reporting options, resources, and support services.

As members of the North Park faculty, we are concerned about the well-being and development of our students and are available to discuss any concerns. Faculty members are private resources meaning we are legally obligated to share information about the behavior reported above with the University's Title IX coordinator. If you are unsure whether you want your concerns disclosed to the Title IX Coordinator, we encourage you to contact Counseling Support Services at (773) 244-4897 or counseling@northpark.edu. Please refer to North Park's Safe Community site for reporting, contact information, and further details.
